Debtor.

ARVEST BANK, An Arkansas Banking
Corporation,

Plaintiff,

vs.

JOHN L. HUMAN

Defendant.

Case No. 02-3178-M
Chapter Seven (7)

Adv. No. 02-206-M

AGREED JOURNAL ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

Now on the 16 day of July, 2003, the above styled case came on for consideration before the undersigned Judge, the Court finds as follows:

1. That the Plaintiff, Arvest Bank, filed this action to determine the discharge ability of a certain debt owed by the Defendant.
2. That as evidenced by the signatures hereto, the parties agree and stipulate that all of the Plaintiff's allegations as stated in its Complaint are true and accurate, and the Defendant hereby confesses judgment to the same in the amount of $2,705.44. The Defendant further agrees that the debt for restitution due and owing as reflected in Schedule E of his petition is not subject to discharge.
3. The Court having considered Plaintiff's Complaint, the Defendant's Answer, evidence offered, the court file, being fully advised on the premises, and based on the parties agreement, finds that Plaintiff's Complaint is well taken and judgment should be granted in accordance with the United States Bankruptcy Code.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Judgment is hereby granted in favor of the Plaintiff, Arvest Bank, and against the Defendant John L. Human denying the discharge of the Defendant's indebtedness to the Plaintiff, Arvest Bank in the amount of Two Thousand Seven Hundred and Five Dollars and Forty Four Cents ($2,705.44). The court further finds that Plaintiff is entitled to an award of attorney fees in the amount of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00).

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED ADJUDGED AND DECREED THAT the debt listed by Defendant in Schedule E of his Bankruptcy Petition due and owing to the United States Department of Justice, pursuant to a restitution agreement to which Arvest is a third-party beneficiary, is not subject to discharge.
